

Aboriginal Services

HELEN J. WYTHER & Associates has created and delivered many training courses and workshop specifically for Aboriginal groups. In the process, proven partnerships with many Aboriginal trainers and facilitators have developed. These cooperative working relationships provide HELEN J. WYTHER & Associates with the ability to offer a variety of training/facilitation teams to meet the many varied needs of Aboriginal groups.

Aboriginal people who have attended our seminars, workshops and courses have gained important knowledge and skills that allowed them to work collaboratively with others in their communities, organizations, and businesses to make a difference. All of our programs are strength based focused on building your capacity to successfully move your community and organization forward.

These Aboriginal services have been created based on information gathered from training requests, participant surveys, key informant interviews and collaborative partnerships with Aboriginal trainers and facilitators. The training content has been developed with a focus on learning how to apply the new knowledge and skills back in the workplace.

HELEN J. WYTHER & Associates has been requested and recommended by many clients to be listed on the ARCO Consulting List which contains consultants, trainers and facilitators that have worked with Aboriginal organizations and First Nations across Ontario.
